1 Introduction

\texttt{rutiltepage} is an unofficial \LaTeX{} package to generate titlepages for Radboud University. It uses official vector logos by the university. The package depends on \texttt{geometry}, \texttt{graphicx}, \texttt{ifpdf}, \texttt{keyval} and \texttt{iflang}. The logo changes when \texttt{babel-dutch} is loaded; this package does not depend on it.

1.1 Contributors

\texttt{rutiltepage} is currently maintained by Mart Lubbers but work has also been done by (in order of date of contribution): Camil Staps\textsuperscript{1}, Daan Sprenkels\textsuperscript{2}, and Chris Kamphuis\textsuperscript{3}.

Previously, this titlepage flew around on the university for at least several years in many forms. I’m not sure who created it first but credits to them!

2 Usage

\texttt{\maketitleu} This macro creates the actual titlepage. It has several options that can be passed in a \texttt{keyval} manner (see the examples below). All options are optional. The available options are:

\begin{itemize}
  \item \texttt{author} \texttt{string} (default: \texttt{author})
  \item \texttt{title} \texttt{string} (default: \texttt{author})
  \item \texttt{department} \texttt{string} (default: \texttt{author})
  \item \texttt{school} \texttt{string} (default: \texttt{author})
  \item \texttt{year} \texttt{year} (default: \texttt{current year})
  \item \texttt{address} \texttt{string} (default: \texttt{empty})
  \item \texttt{country} \texttt{string} (default: \texttt{empty})
  \item \texttt{language} \texttt{language} (default: \texttt{en})
  \item \texttt{logo} \texttt{string} (default: \texttt{default})
  \item \texttt{lang} \texttt{language} (default: \texttt{en})
\end{itemize}

\begin{itemize}
  \item \texttt{\maketitleu} \texttt{\author{Mart Lubbers}} \texttt{\title{1 Introduction}} \texttt{\year{2022/02/21}} \texttt{\maketitleu}
  \item \texttt{\maketitleu} \texttt{\author{Mart Lubbers}} \texttt{\title{A Radboud University titlepage}} \texttt{\year{2022/02/21}} \texttt{\maketitleu}
  \item \texttt{\maketitleu} \texttt{\author{Mart Lubbers}} \texttt{\title{1 Introduction}} \texttt{\year{2022/02/21}} \texttt{\maketitleu}
  \item \texttt{\maketitleu} \texttt{\author{Mart Lubbers}} \texttt{\title{A Radboud University titlepage}} \texttt{\year{2022/02/21}} \texttt{\maketitleu}
\end{itemize}

3 Examples

The following code generates the three title pages below:

\maketitleru[layout=traditional,
authors=\{John Doe\},
date=\{Tomorrow\},
others=\{\{Supervisor:\}\{Jane Doe\},\{Second reader:\}\{Joanne Dune\}\}, course=\{Master’s Thesis\}, title=\{The ‘traditional’ layout\}, subtitle=\{Simple elegance\}]\maketitleru[layout=seventeen,
authors=\{John Doe\},
date=\{Tomorrow\},
others=\{\{Supervisor:\}\{Jane Doe\},\{Second reader:\}\{Joanne Dune\}\}, title=\{The ‘seventeen’ layout\}, subtitle=\{Based on the latest corporate identity guidelines\}]\maketitleru[authors=\{John Doe\},
date=\{Tomorrow\},
others=\{\{Supervisor:\}\{Jane Doe\},\{Second reader:\}\{Joanne Dune\}\},
course=\{Master’s Thesis\}, title=\{The ‘twentytwo’ layout\}, subtitle=\{Slightly modified ‘seventeen’ including course information\}]\(^4\)Describes in which layouts the key is applicable. t stands for ‘traditional’; 17 for ‘seventeen’; 22 for ‘twentytwo’. See the layout option and the examples below.
The ‘traditional’ layout

Simple elegance
